

I am receiving ever-increasing numbers of telemarketing calls, especially during the dinner hours, and when I try to find out information on the caller, I'm either not given the info or hung up on.